Andy,

As discussed, I understand that this will probably be the hardest part - but we will need to work it out between us. To ensure success of the joint project, to cover the loss of revenue - one that we really cannot afford in the current economic condition, to fund the resources required to change the business where we are today to something unknown and untested - requires us to be pragmatic and ensure that all bases are covered for all of us to be successful.

The deal on the table as it stands currently is:

For the 2 financial parts:

A) $20 Million per year for 3 year

B) Additionally for Revenue share:

10% of revenue generated by Google on handsets running "Open Source Java Linux Mobile Platform" or derivatives with a cap of $25 Million a year (when and if google monetizes - then this becomes effective. We added the cap as per Rich's request).

We should chat about this seperately as well.

Thanks,
 ==Vineet
